From the Executive Producer

RVP's goal is to delight you.

Creating delight in a professionalized community theater requires balancing artistic excellence with accessibility, discipline with joy, and structure with a sense of shared ownership. Unlike purely amateur groups or fully commercial institutions, professionalized community theaters occupy a middle ground: they aspire to high standards while remaining rooted in local participation and civic purpose. Delight emerges when this tension is handled thoughtfully and intentionally.

First, delight begins with respect for the audience. Professionalized practices—strong production values, clear storytelling, thoughtful pacing, and consistent quality—signal that the audience's time and attention matter. Even when budgets are modest, care shows. Clean sightlines, intentional lighting, intelligible sound, and confident performances all contribute to an experience that feels generous rather than makeshift. Audiences are delighted when they sense that the company has done its homework and taken pride in the work, regardless of scale.

We hope you will be delighted with The Hello Girls, bring your friends and family and make Ross Valley Players your theater.

Director's Notes

This production of The Hello Girls is an act of collective remembrance using art, research, and community to restore honor to women whose service history tried to forget.

Welcome, and thank you for joining us as we "Answer the Call" for our Hello Girls. These brave heroes have become very special to me.

What began as a quiet moment on a rainy night, listening to a new CD (yes, a Compact Disc), sparked a journey to understand and amplify the heroism of the Hello Girls.

Wanting someone to believe in us; Isn't that what we all want? It's a universal desire. I am deeply grateful to Steven Price and Ross Valley Players for believing in me and for welcoming The Hello Girls into this community.

Community has been the grounding force in telling this story. When I first directed The Hello Girls in Sonoma in 2024, my research connected me to an extraordinary group of historians, advocates, and descendants who have devoted much of their lives to ensuring these women receive the recognition they deserve. I collaborated with Captain Chris Christopher of The Doughboy Organization and Jim Theres, executive producer of the documentary The Hello Girls. I also had the honor of meeting descendants of the Hello Girls themselves, including Grace Banker's granddaughter, Carolyn Timbie. Their generosity, shared research, and belief in this work elevated every effort to tell the story truthfully.

That community has remained with me. When I confirmed I would be directing the show for Ross Valley Players in 2026, they were the first people I called. During my earlier research, I learned that a Hello Girl, Juliette Courtial Smith, was buried in Sonoma without a grave marker. Together, we worked to honor her with a marker recognizing her service in the U.S. Army Signal Corps.

And now, we are doing it again. Another Hello Girl, Irma Armanet, lies buried at Holy Cross Cemetery in Colma, also without a grave marker. On February 7th, our cast will stand graveside to sing and remember Irma, before honoring her again onstage that same evening. Historians, descendants, advocates, and artists from the Bay Area and across the country will come together for her. It is a rare and powerful convergence: art and history, remembrance and storytelling, meeting in real time.

In The Hello Girls, we follow real women who served in the U.S. Army Signal Corps, defending freedoms abroad while uncertain they would ever be granted the same respect at home. As their stories unfold, I invite you to reflect on the countless women, and all underrepresented veterans, whose service and sacrifice remain unseen. Please take a moment to honor those who gave so much with little expectation of recognition in return.

There is goodness in this world. I was welcomed into this community by a shared belief: that these women matter. Their voices resonate through time, reminding us of the power of the human spirit and the transformative power of art to inspire, educate, and restore honor.

Thank you, Irma. Thank you, Juliette. Thank you, Hello Girls, and thank you to all whose stories of sacrifice remain untold.

Playwright's Bios

Peter C. Mills (Playwright, Music & Lyrics) is an award-winning composer/lyricist and bookwriter, whose most recent show, The Hello Girls (Off-Broadway, 59E59 Theatres) was nominated for three Drama Desk Awards and four Outer Critics Circle Awards.

Other works include: The Honeymooners (lyrics) at the Paper Mill Playhouse; Illyria (book, music, and lyrics) at the Shakespeare Theatre of New Jersey; and Golden Boy of the Blue Ridge (book, music, and lyrics) at 59E59 Theatres.

Awards include: the 2010 Kleban Prize, the 2007 Fred Ebb Award, the 2003 Richard Rodgers New Horizons Award, the 2011 Cole Porter Award, a 2001 Jonathan Larson Performing Arts Foundation grant, the 2014 Donna Perret Rosen Award, and two 2006 Drama Desk Award nominations for his show, The Pursuit of Persephone (Best Music, Best Orchestration). He received a 2015 fellowship from the Bogliasco Foundation in Italy to develop his show, Death for Five Voices.

Peter is a member of ASCAP and has an MFA from NYU's Graduate Musical Theater Writing Program. He is a founding member of Prospect Theater Company.

Cara Reichel (Playwright) is originally from Oxford, Mississippi and Rome, Georgia. She received her BA from Princeton University and attended the M.F.A. Program in Directing at Brooklyn College. Since 1998, Cara has been the Producing Artistic Director and a founding member of Prospect Theater Company, an acclaimed non-profit organization producing off-off-Broadway in Manhattan. Cara's particular passion is for collaborating with writers on the creation of new musicals. For Prospect, Cara has directed: The Flood, Iron Curtain, The Book of the Dun Cow, The Pursuit of Persephone (co-bookwriter, 2006 Drama Desk Nomination for Best Music and Orchestrations), Lonely Rhymes, The Uses of Enchantment, The Merry Wives of Windsor, The House of Bernarda Alba, The Alchemists, Dido and Aeneas (OOBR Award), The Taxi Cabaret (OOBR Award), Illyria (co-adapter), and Danton's Death, among others. Other recent directing credits include Julius Caesar (GMT Productions), The White Widow (PASSAJ Productions), and The Most Happy Fella (Gallery Players). Cara received the 2002 Lucille Lortel Award from the League of Professional Theatre Women, a 2004 New Directors/New Works grant from the Drama League, was the 2006 "Alumna of the Year" for Brooklyn College's Theatre Program, and is a member of the Lincoln Center Director's Lab and the SSD&C. Cara is also the author and illustrator of a published children's book: A Stone Promise (Landmark Editions, 1991).

RVP is part of the Marin Art and Garden Center, which sits within the unceded ancestral homeland of the Coast Miwok people. RVP respects and honors past, present, and future generations of Miwok and their continued connection to this land. RVP is grateful for the opportunity to gather in this place and gives respect to its first inhabitants.

Backstage Bios

Maeve Smith (Director) is a Sonoma resident and is making her RVP directing debut with The Hello Girls. This is her 2nd time directing The Hello Girls, and she is humbled to continue to share this story. Maeve spent most of her early career based out of New York, pounding the pavement, as they say. She found herself with a breadth of opportunities from national tours to regional theatre to entertaining aboard cruise ships on the high seas. Maeve holds both a BA (Chico State) and MFA (SDSU) in Musical Theatre. She was most recently seen as Amy in Company at Spreckels Performing Arts Center in Rohnert Park.

Emma Gardner (Understudy) is so excited to be making her Ross Valley Players and understudying debut! Her recent Bay Area credits include Cinderella in Cinderella (African-American Shakespeare Company) and staged readings of Blackbox (Z Space's Word for Word) and Love U (Grabmeier and Jost). She earned a BA from UC Berkeley in Molecular & Cell Biology and Psychology while also being involved in the Theatre, Dance, and Performance Studies (TDPS) department. Other favorite credits include Pool of Unknown Wonders: Undertow of the Soul, In the Red and Brown Water, Daughters of Leda, and The Wednesday Club. She would like to thank her incredible family for supporting her through thick and thin and her amazing friends for always being her number one fans.

Olivia Quinn (Understudy, Violin) is excited to be part of her first production with Ross Valley Players. She was most recently seen in Pippin at Contra Costa Civic Theatre. She is incredibly grateful for the opportunity to collaborate with such a talented cast and crew and to honor the lives of the real "Hello Girls." She looks forward to sharing this production with the audience and sends a special thanks to her loved ones!

Jonathon Blue (Choreographer/Understudy) is a director, choreographer, hair and makeup artist, musician, and performer in the North Bay Area. Blue is so excited to participate at Ross Valley Players for the first time for this production. This story is a part of our history that must be kept alive.

Christopher Hewitt (Musical Director) is a professional pianist and music director residing in San Francisco. Christopher works in a myriad of different capacities as a professional musician, including Director of Music Ministry at Notre Dame des Victoires, accompanist for the National Children's Chorus, and as Music & Vocal Director at Katia & Company in Marin. Christopher's recent Music Director credits include Spelling Bee, A Chorus Line, and Frozen, Jr. Well-versed in classical music as well as musical theatre, Christopher often accompanies auditions, plays for cabaret shows, and provides music for private parties. Equally passionate about music education, Christopher also teaches private piano and voice lessons. Besides music, Christopher loves cars, finance, and traveling around the world.

Dianne Harrison (Stage Manager/Props Designer) earned her BA in Technical Theatre from Sonoma State University. She has worked in stage management, sound/light board operations, properties design, and scenic painting for many Bay Area theatre companies, including the African-American Shakespeare Company, the Altarena Playhouse, Marin Shakespeare Company, Napa Valley College, Novato Theatre Company, Opera Parallèle, PlayGround SF, Ross Valley Players, Santa Rosa Ballet Company, Santa Rosa Junior College, Sonoma Arts Live, and Sonoma State University. Dianne is honored to work on such a meaningful project, and she thanks all military members and their families, past and present, for their service.

Evan Ceremony (Bass) is a performing musician based in the San Francisco Bay Area with over a decade of professional experience, and is excited to be returning to RVP for his second show with the company. He has also played in various musical theater productions throughout the Bay Area including Rent, In The Heights, Newsies, Footloose, and many others. When he's not doing theater shows, Evan plays and records for a variety of music groups, artists, and songwriters throughout the West Coast and beyond.

Joyce Baker (Drums) embraces that natural high from the magic and live artistry of musical theater. Currently finishing a run of The SpongeBob Musical and Urinetown, other recent credits are extreme musical theater with We Players: Macbeth, City of Angels, Little Mermaid, and Avenue Q. Joyce performs regularly with Melba's Kitchen Women's Big Band and is a 2025 featured artist with Key Elements Latin Jazz Ensemble, Bay Beats. Joyce is ecstatic to be following her dream of musical theater after retiring from Oakland Unified School District's music department after 25 years. Deep gratitude and love to her family, mentors, and friends for the unconditional loving support all along the way.

David Smith (Co-Producer) is a proud supporter of Ross Valley Players. He usually Director Maeve Smith (no relation) has assembled a fabulous and talented cast and musical team to bring this important story to life. David thanks his wife for getting him involved in live theatre, and he thanks you for supporting Ross Valley Players.

Ronald E. Krempetz (Scenic Design) has been a Bay Area set designer since 1967. Throughout his career, Ron has earned numerous awards for theatre, retail, and industrial theatrical design. In 2022, Ron retired from his position at the College of Marin as resident Set Designer and Instructor of Technical Theatre. As a guest designer, he returned to COM for a production of Mystic Pizza this last fall. Ron has been happy to work on many productions at Ross Valley Players since 1995, earning numerous acknowledgments for his work. He is happy to return to work with RVP's many talented theatre folks on the production of The Hello Girls. Ron resides in Petaluma with his wife Diane. He is the proud PopPops of nine grandchildren who continue to inspire his creative process.

Frank Sarubbi (Lighting Design). The Hello Girls marks Frank's 15th lighting assignment for Ross Valley Players. Frank acquired his love for lighting design in 1966 in Mr. Witt's drama class at San Francisco's Lincoln High School. Frank has won the 2012 SFBATCC lighting design award for NTC's production of Noises Off. Frank was nominated for light design for NTC's Return to the Forbidden Planet, Into the Woods, and 4000 Miles. In 2023, he won SFBATCC lighting design award for Ross Valley Players' production of Native Gardens. In 2024, he won the SFBATCC lighting design award for RVP's production of Blithe Spirit. It's been a pleasure working with this cast and crew of The Hello Girls.

John Rustan (Dialect Coach) has been dialect coach for 79 productions and more than 400 actors for the past 39 years. This is his second time coaching dialects and language pronunciation for The Hello Girls. He has coached productions at venues such as 6th Street Playhouse, Santa Rosa JC, Spreckels, Cinnabar, Napa Valley College, and many other Bay Area theatres. He coaches individual film and stage actors in dialects and accents, and he is also an accent reduction, public speaking, and auditions coach. His services can be found at DialectsCoach.com.

Billie Cox (Sound & Projections Design) has worked with Marin Shakespeare, 6th Street Playhouse, SF Playhouse, Custom Made Theatre, NCTC, Stapleton, Masquers, Alcove, Novato Players, College of Marin and many others. Her work has brought her ten BATCC nominations, a TBA nomination, two Falstaff Awards and a Dean Goodman Award. Her original play, A Bearded Lady, was awarded Best Play of the 2009 SF Fringe Festival.

Come Full Circle with RVP

Connect with the Legacy Circle and shape the future of Ross Valley Players.

Georgia F. Sagues has done just that!

"I've enjoyed RVP productions for years. They are wonderful! I encourage everyone to support RVP, including the Legacy Circle."

Legacy Circle Members include Ross Valley Players in their estate plans in some way—will, trust, life insurance policy, etc. The Board's intention is to invest any funds received in a way to produce a stable income stream to benefit RVP for decades.

Georgia has joined board members, volunteers, and season ticket subscribers in this commitment. No need to tell us the amount of your planned estate gift, only that you will be including RVP as a beneficiary or have already done so.

Contact our Board President, Allan Casalou, at acasalou@gmail.com with questions.

Join the honor roll of donors displayed in the lobby, right by where Georgia is sitting. Help sustain a creative community asset.
